Right: Caught red-handed! Raider cheerleaders Carrie Delcamp and Jenna Anglemeyer are surprised by the camera in the act of getting a refreshing drink from the machine.

Lower right: More friendship at Northridge? Is that really allowed? Senior Stephanie Boyer has something hidden in her hand, while Tiffany Raymond flashes a smile

Raider Moments

This is Northridge. These are the places where we have spent so many golden moments, as well as moments of other colors. When we look back on our high school days, these are the places, the people, and the moments we'll remember.

Above: Best friends. These junior girls have learned how valuable it is to have friends during the hectic days of high school.

Top: Handsome Ted Ritchie and Bruce Nethercutt take a minute to pose for the camera. These senior guys have come a long way in four years.

Above: What perfect white teeth these senior girls have! Tamara, Tiffany, Jenny and Gina show what good friends they are.

Left: Another day, another dollar. These students are ready to tackle another day at Northridge. But first they had to park the car.

Raider Royalty

Spirits were up and festivities abounded the night of September 18, Homecoming for the Raiders. The evening began with an exciting pregame performance by the band. The varsity football team then took the field and fought a tough half. In the float competition the juniors placed first with their slogan "Orange Crush." The senior's "Raider Pride" float came in second, and the freshmen placed third with their motto "Cage the Tigers." Then the beautiful queens and their handsome escorts dazzled the crowd. Representing the freshmen were Marcia Borntrager and her escort Tim Taylor. The sophomores were represented by Nikki Miller and her escort Eric Call. Representing the junior class was Rolanda Hooley, escorted by Ryan Miller. The senior candidates were Missy Bowlby, escorted by Mike Baer; Tiffany Raymond, escorted by Chris Dumford; and this year's Queen Terri Yoder who was escorted by Chris Murray. The Raider football team once again took the field and "Caged the Tigers" with a 28-27 victory over Warsaw.

The Queen's court forward and backward. The candidates and their escorts relax and mingle after the stress of the competitin.

Above: Smile Raider Royalty! England's royalty has nothing on this group!

Left: "Did I really win?" Terri seems a bit dazed as the crowd gathers to congratulate her for this much deserved honor.

Raiders Show Their Spirit

With Homecoming just around the corner, spirit week was an exciting time at Northridge. From the dizzying array of colors on plaid day, to the black and white of generic day; from the Revenge of the Nerds that invaded the school on nerd day, to the tidal wave of beach bummers that washed in on Beach day, there was an exciting feeling of spirit in the air. The week arrived at its finale on Friday with green and gold day to cheer on the Raiders. The activities during the pep session included the frantic running, pulling and tripping of the amoeba race, and the suspenseful battle of the tug-of-war match. The cheerleaders, Mr. Noble and senior class president Randy Cook added to the excitement with rousing cheers for the Raiders in their battle against Warsaw.

Right: Dressed for success! Modeling the latest in nerd fashions is Darrel Cross. The handsome sport coat with matching shirt and tie forms the perfect ensemble.

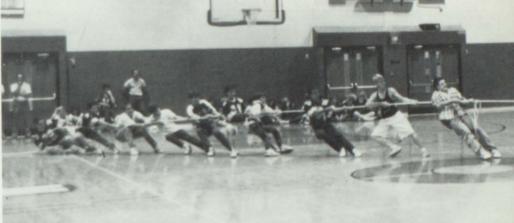

Left: Give me an R, give me an A, give me an I, give me a D, give me an E, give me an R, give me an S! The cheerleaders fire up the students during the pep session.

Below Left: Look! There's two more of 'em! Where do they come from? Why are they here? Maybe Terri and Tamara can answer that question.

Above: The freshmen struggle to gain their footing and stop sliding toward the forbidding line that marks a victory for their opponents. Pull, men, pull!

Mr. Clark poses in true form. With tie crooked, shirt half-untucked, and pencil holder in pocket, Mr. Clark is ready to fight for truth, justice, and the American Nerd way.

Seniors Marci Stump and Thuan Pham are deeply involved in their competetive game of skill. The seniors take great delight in challenging themselves and stretching their minds.

These Raider seniors dress up for the day in their finest clothes and best smiles. Jenny Miles seems happy to begin studying, while Tamara just grins and bears it.

Seniors

Did you have that many books in Sweden, Mikael Westin? Books and all, Mikael seems to like it here at Northridge. His friend Don Mullins seems happy, too.

Seniors Brian Hershberger, Loc Nguyen, Jeff Noethe, and Jerry Mast pose with their close, personal friends, the California Raisins. Isn't there a remarkable resemblance?

Julie Yoder and Stephanie Gardner are caught in the act of using the senior bun warmer! Don't look so guilty, Julie, just keep your cool, like Stephanie.

Can we talk? Stacy Murphy must have received some good news. Many seniors make good use of the phone. Just like E.T., they "Phone home".

Stratford

The long day began at 6:30 in the morning. The tired, but excited seniors boarded the bus, and soon they were off! Later that afternoon they reached the border, and entered the beautiful country of Canada. After spending a while shopping in Windsor, the trippers continued on to their final destination: Stratford, Ontario. That evening they watched the first performance, Shakespeare's wild tragedy, Troilus and Cressida, which was enjoyed by all. The long day reached its climax as people rushed to call the pizza places as soon as they got back to the rooms. The next morning, groggy, but still ready to go, the trippers enjoyed shopping, eating, and seeing the sights of the city, before the afternoon performance of Much Ado About Nothing, again enjoyed by all. The weary trippers boarded the busses one final time to return to good old Middlebury.

Middle: Are you Stratford trippers awake, there? Heather Anderson, Mrs. Priem, and Rob Francis take a moment to relax in the halls of the Inn.

John the Ripper stalks Northridge after escaping from the poster of London. Jenny flashes a nervous smile before meeting her doom!

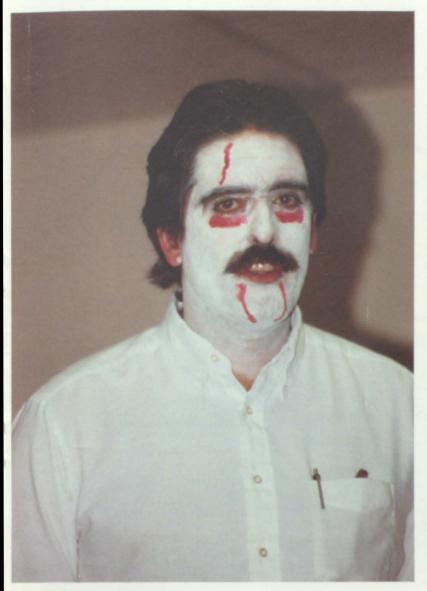

Above: Meanwhile, seemingly unconcerned about the impending murder, the more studious members of the school, David and Pat enjoy a moment in the sun.

Right: "Oh! Am I on camera?" junior Andrea Mills asks, as she struts her stuff. Rolonda Hooley thinks it's rather funny.

Upper left: "I vant to bite your neck!" After all these years, Mr. Frazier's true personality emerges!

Above: Paula Evans and Tami Raymond are such good friends! They would never do anything mean to each other, would they?

Left: "Help! Let me go!" The freshman guys hold tight to their helplessly thrashing hostage. Don't let him go! N I N E T E E N

R-A-I-D-E-R-S!

A very important aspect of the football and basketball games at Northridge, the cheerleaders never fail to add excitement to the games. Backed by the lifters at home basketball games, the squad puts in hours of practice to help encourage players and fans alike. Lifters for this year were Bryan Keck, Bruce Nethercutt, Ross Goebel, Ted Ritchie, Norm Floria, Jason Dukes and Keith Askew. Heather Anderson was awarded MPV for Varsity Cheerleaders, and Janelle Yoder received the Mental Attitude Award. Junior Varsity and Freshman Cheerleader Mental Attitude winners were Tanya Koontz and Carrie Delcamp.

Raider Football

Although the Raiders finished with a record of 2-6, it was a good year for the team as they entered the Northern Lakes Conference. Led by head coach John Weaver, and assisted by Rollie Schultz, Verlin Nofzinger, Mike Logan and Mark Hofer, most of the team's losses were very close games. Awards went to Carter Yoder on the defensive line, Steve Coleman — defensive back, Barry Yoder — offensive line, and Randy Cook as offensive back. Rob Zook captured the Mental Attitude Award, Jeremy Davis the Special Teams Award, and Randy Cook also took MVP honors. For the JV, Mike Miller was MVP and Paul Lockwood Mental Attitude. Freshmen awards went to Chris Sheets for Mental Attitude and Terry Zimmerman as MVP.

Set It Up

The Northridge Volleyball teams enjoyed an outstanding 1987 season. Coaches Mike Lewis, Mary Shroyer and Mark Gruwell led their teams to winning seasons. The recipients of the Varsity Volleyball awards are as follows: Missy Bowlby, MVP; Kallie Kilmer, Serving; Michelle Bontrager, Defense; Missy Bowlby, Offensive; Stephanie Yoder, Mental Attitude. Congratulations, volleyball teams on a fine season!

Cross Country

The Northridge Cross Country team ended the year with a disappointing record of 1-16. Despite the number of losses the team had a fun, enjoyable season. The rebuilding year should give underclassmen a better season to look forward to next year. The team was encouraged to keep giving it their all by the saying, "The race does not always go to the swift, but to those who keep on running."

Wimbledon Here We Come

The tennis team did a great job this year, especially considering that only half the team - seven guys - returned from last year's team. Even the coach, Phil Lederach, is new to the team, though he coached five years at his previous school. With only one player graduating this year, next year's team may break this year's record of 7-8. This year's Most Valuable Player is Tony Wakley. Not surprisingly, Tony is credited with Most Points, for the third year in a row. The Mental Attitude Award went to Jason Yoder. All in all, this year's team has had a very respectable season.

Now who is this mysterious player? It looks like he can return the volley well enough. (At least I asume that that is why he is leaping forward.) If you can name this rear, please contact someone soon.

Top: The only senior on the team this year, Chris Murray, is fenced in to protect people from his viscious racket. Only other tennis players are brave enough to enter the courts today. Below: Tony Wakley keeps his eyes on the ball after blasting a serve intended to drive his opponent out of the court. Showing great form, Wakley!

Below: Chris Murray is obviously an inspired tennis player. Note the fine form and radient face. Also the light step which contrasts with the firm grip on the racket. All this adds up to one heck of a tennis player.

Below: Ryan Miller lines up for the return, and it looks like a hit! The ease seen in this shot is obviously going to psych out his opponent and clear the way to the win.

Hoosier Hysteria

Led by Coach Pletcher, the Raider basketball team charged to a 13-8 overall record and 2-5 in the Northern Lakes Conference. Led by MVP Gary Zimmerman and Mental Attitude winner Rob Zook, the team was involved in many exciting games, including a 57-54 home loss to state runner-up Concord. Gary Zimmerman led the county with a 23.7 pointper-game scoring average and was named to the all-conference team, while Mike Baer was named honorable mention. The Raiders have several key players returning and should have another strong basketball team.

Gareth Troyer plays keep-away from Shawn Kemp and Jamar Johnson of Concord as he looks for a teammate.

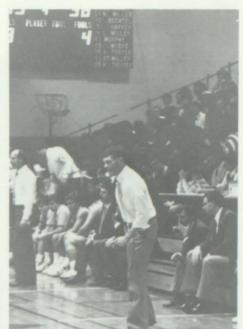

Gary Zimmerman is in total control as he scores two of his 498 points on the year.

Mike Baer towers above the defense as he goes for two in sectional play against Penn.

Basketball — Lady Raider Style

Although the team finished with a 2·17 record, the team worked hard all year. Led by Most Valuable Player Julie Yoder and Coach Rollie Schultz, the team had a 1·6 record in the NLC. Julie Yoder was also named to the all-conference squad, while Stephanie Yoder copped the Mental Attitude Award. Coach Miller and JV team ended the year with a 5-12 record. The Freshman girls' basketball team, led by Coach Swartzentruber, finished with an 8-5 record.

All The Right Moves

The Raider wrestling team had a disappointing 1987-88 season. The season ended with a record of 2-13. Despite the losses the team practiced very hard to face their tough opponents. Several wrestlers were honored with post-season awards. MVP went to Mike Boval. Most take-downs was awarded to Mike Roberts. Randy Miller was given the Mental Attitude Award for varsity and Chad Beachy earned the junior varsity Mental Attitude Award. The team will lose only two seniors this year so next year promises to be more successful.

Raider Baseball Strong Once Again

The Raider baseball team entered the Northern Lakes Conference with a bang as they finished a strong second to a good Goshen club. The squad finished with a fine 10-4 record in the NLC and 19-8 record overall. Led by Coaches Clark and Logan, the team reaped rewards for all their hard work and sweat in practice. Led by long-ball hitter Steve Coleman, the Raiders hit numerous home runs throughout the year.

NLC Champs

The Lady Raider Softball team had a good season this year under the coaching of D. Willig. The only senior this year, Annette Evans, led the team much of the time with her fantastic pitching, backed up by some fancy glovework by the team, and the team's batting took them into the lead. With this potent combination, the team ended the season with a 12-8 record and came in first in the NLC conference. In the sectional at the present time they are ready for regionals after winning all three games at district.

Middle left: The team is quite happy after a win and the Concord game was no exception.

Will Deanna Green make the play? Tune in next time for the exciting conclusion.

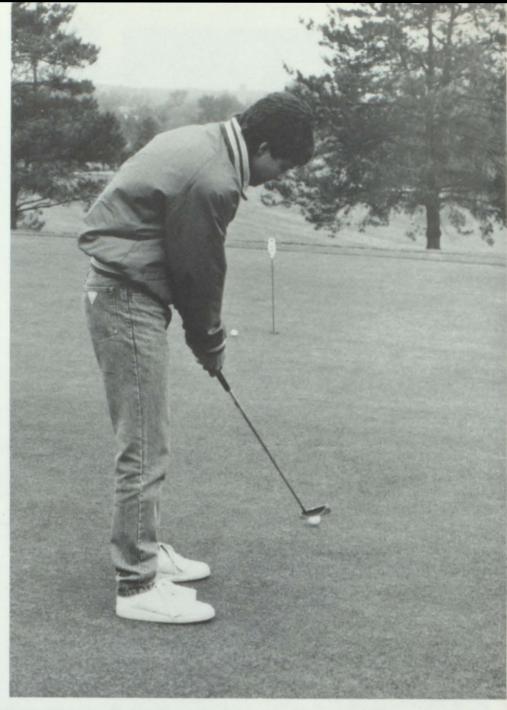

Right: Ryan Miller practices his putting before teeing off at Elcona Country Club.

Sectional Champs!

One of the strongest sports at Northridge is golf. The guys on the golf team deserve much recognition for their fine efforts which led them to the sectional championship. The win-loss record for the season was 13-4. One of the year's highlights was Sam Rozzi's low medalist award at sectionals. He earned this honor by shooting a 70. Next year's season promises to be another good one since there are only two graduating seniors. Fine job, Raider Golfers!

Serve & Volley

Although the 1987-88 Raider girl's tennis team finished with a disappointing 2-11 record, the girls all worked hard and gave it their best shot. Led by Coach Lederach and MVP Mindi Malloy, the team struggled all year to gain

Reorganization

The Middlebury School Corporation and the NHS administration and staff have been busy this year planning for the Northridge expansion. Work started in April of this year with minor disruptions to classes (i.e. Mr. Rasler finished out the school year in the auditorium and the students ate lunch in the gymnasium.) As next year progresses, we will be looking forward to moving into newly completed classrooms, gymrasium, pool and cafeteria.

NHS NHS

Contrary to popular belief, the Northridge High School National Honor Society really does have many activities throughout the year. Each spring the new members are inducted from the Sophomore and Junior Classes and given their Constitutions. Each member is required to be on one committee and in two activities. Among this year's activities were: a Hershey's Kiss sale for Sweetest Day, the bookstore every morning before school, a dance after the football game, the Honors Wall decorations, Teacher of the Month, a teacher breakfast, and induction. Attendance and participation, while not yet perfect, have gone up this year, thanks to the efforts of President Missy Bowlby, and Secretary Thuan Pham. Special thanks also goes to Mrs. Tayler for sponsoring the Honor Society and helping to set the stage for the future success of the Northridge chap-

S.A.D.D.

S.A.D.D., Students Against Drunk Driving, is a group of Northridge students who give much of their time and effort to encourage students not to drink and drive. The Northridge S.A.D.D. chapter sponsored several events during the 1987-88 school year. Good job students!

Up, up and away! say Northridge students as they launch their balloons. The S.A.D.D. balloon launch took place before prom.

Top: "How's this for getting smashed?" The wrecked car in the Northridge parking lot was another way for S.A.D.D. to get their point across.

Above: Kim Troyer and Tanya Koontz help each other along on the slippery slopes.

Ski Club

The Northridge Ski Club is one of several active clubs at Northridge. Ski club is a group of about sixty students who ski on Wednesday nights in the winter months. The group usually skis about six times a year at Swiss Valley in Michigan. Students involved in the club pay an affordable fee which covers lift tickets, three lessons for beginners, and equipment consisting of boots, poles, and skis. Being in ski club is a good way to get to know other students at Northridge and to meet people from other schools.

Creative Minds At Work

It's been a long time in the making, but we think you'll agree it was worth it. Yearbook Co-Editors Darrel Cross and Kyle Weirich have worked hard to put together a book full of memories of our days in school. Pictures taken by photographers Matt Martin and Thuan Pham are arranged, and captions are written by the editors and the staff. This year's staff members were Pam Bressler, Annika Gronholm, Dienne Hiser, Steve Howell, Jerry Mast, Eunice Martin, Matt Milanese, Tami Schlabach, Sam Weirich, Tracey Yoder, and Trisha Yowell. We hope that you enjoy the finished product and will treasure the memories of Northridge High School for many years to come.

Academic Decathlon

This year's Academic Decathlon team did quite well, placing fourth out of eleven regional schools. The six member team of Tami Schlabach, Dienne Hiser, Tom Hill, Loc Nguyen, Eunice Martin, and Slade Burkholder spent a grueling day involved in ten areas of competition. The tests included math, science, fine arts, social studies, economics, and language and literature. Each member of the team also had to prepare a speech, write an essay, and complete an interview. The long day culminated in a Super Quiz, in which the team placed fourth. The team earned a total of eleven medals, including Dienne Hiser's bronze for overall individual in the Honors division. Special thanks go to coaches: Mr. Von Gunten, Mr. Noble, Mrs. Kaminskis, Mr. Kattau, and Mr. Lanctot; and especially organizer Mrs. Augustine.

Raider Band Parades To LONDON

Hours of practice, tedious planning, and plenty of worry and excitement went into its making, but most would agree it was worth it; the London Trip of '88 was a success. After perfecting corners and horn angles, the band marched their way into the hearts of the Londoners in the Lord Mayor's Parade on New Year's Day. The soccer game, that is, the Tottenham Hotspur Football Club, was also considered a success, though the British had never seen such a spectacle and were unsure what to make of it. But, of course, all work and no play makes Northridge a dull band. Sightseeing tours were included in the trip. As well as the city of London itself, the band was treated to a visit of Stratford-upon-Avon, the home of William Shakespeare; Warwick Castle: and Windsor Castle. one of the current residences of Queen Elizabeth II, who was not present at the time. Many London trippers took advantage of a free evening to see one of the many theatre productions offered. Other popular attractions were the Hard Rock Cafe, Piccadilly Circus, the Tube, or a burger at Burger King or McDonald's. While their cooking may not have been superb, the British, on the average were polite and interesting.

Below: While the band members found time to do many different things, cleaning house was not one of them apparently.

Mr. Lindsay is the director of the jazz ensemble. He keeps the students excited and in tune with the music.

All That Jazz

The Northridge jazz ensemble is a group of band students who practice every morning before school throughout the year. The group plays not only jazz music but also blues, rock, and pop. The 1987-1988 school year was a busy one for the jazz ensemble. They gave two concerts, competed in two contests, played at a basketball game and toured the Middlebury Community Schools. The jazz ensemble provides an excellent performing experience for Northridge band students. It exposes them to many different styles of music. It also gives them many preforming opportunities. The jazz ensemble will entertain Northridge students for years to come.

Horn angles, bones! Scott Yoder and the dedicated trombone section rise early to practice and get ready for competition.

Are you guys sure you have that music memorized? The equally dedicated sax section knows that music is also important in a marching show.

Work, work, work! It seems that's all these hard-working band members do! But it all pays off as the trumpet section knows well.

Practice Makes Perfect

From August through October the Northridge Raider Marching Band is hard at work preparing the show to perform at the football games and in numerous competitions. Early morning rehearsals, sectionals, and individual practice all combine to produce a polished and exciting show for the judges and crowds. It isn't all work and no play for these dedicated people, though. They know how to play just as hard as they work!

The frequent fun times and many close friendships help them through the long days, and make for a better band, bound together by friendship and desire to succeed. Desire to make it to State, desire to experience those shining moments in the spotlight.

Below: When all these sections put their hard work and energy together on the field, the result is the exciting show that earned fourth place.

The bell-headed mellophones also put in a lot of work this season. Why won't you show your faces? Are you shy or on the "Wanted" list?

Left: "It looks just like me!" says Sophomore trombone player Tim Troyer. And, of course, they are both very handsome in uniform!

Above: The crowd is given a good view of the band's better sides! Warm-up and tuning are important before a performance.

Below: Get those chins up, Marci Stump and Kyle Weirich! The Drum Majors look proud as they accept the first division trophy for the band.

Flying Flags

The Colorguard this year, directed by Mrs. Augustine and Mrs. Winegart, was one of the largest ever. For the first part of the year the girls joined the band to march in the field show. From their spicy dance routine in "Throwdown," to their graceful pink flag swirls in "Send in the Clowns," they added a lot to the band, and the audiences loved them. They also added flash and color to the parade in London. For the last part of the year, the girls were in the spotlight by themselves. They helped to entertain and pep up the audiences at the basket-ball games. Glad to have you aboard, Colorguard!

After getting up early for a morning practice, a sleepy Missy Downing wakes up to practice.

The band steps aside to allow the Colorguard to strut their stuff in the Colorguard feature "Throwdown."

Lower right: On a bright sunny day at Chesterton invitational, the girls give it one more run through before performance time.

Music Mania

The Northridge choirs make up one of the largest and finest organizations in the school. There are three different choirs: a small girls' chorale, the large concert choir, and the select Sound of Friends swing choir. All three choirs are under the direction of Gerald Rasler, who is well liked by all. Each year the choirs perform in many different concerts and compete in contests with other choirs. From their first concert in the fall through their annual Christmas concert and ending in May with a combined choir Festival, the choirs are always sure to please the audience. A special event this year was the Winter Arts Festival in which the choirs joined with the band for a few numbers. The audience enjoyed the show, and it was a good experience for all. The choirs also do quite well in contest every year. This year all three choirs received first divisions in their group levels. The Sound of Friends advanced to the State level where they placed ninth out of sixteen choirs. Good job, Friends! Thanks to Mr. Rasler and his three excellent choirs, Northridge will always be filled with the sound of music. So follow the choirs' example and just sing, sing a song.

Those Dancin' Feet

They sing! They dance! They entertain! Who are they? Ladies and gentlemen, presenting The Sound of Friends! This select group of singers and dancers have been a valuable part of the music department of Northridge since the beginning of the school's existence. Whether softly singing a tender ballad, or steppin' lively to the beat of a new rock hit, these performers have the spirit and enthusiasm it takes to capture the crowd and hold it spellbound. Whether singing a solo or joining in the group effort, each member contributes his or her own unique musical talent. The group performs in many different events throughout the year. From their many competitions, including solo and ensemble contest and swing choir contest, to the many performances they give in the community; from their tours of the elementary schools and Heritage to their performances at Northridge, they give it their best. Every performance is a special occasion, full of spectacular sound and enlivening energy. Gerald Rasler is proud to be the director of this fine group. They've got the music in them, as they always have and always will. Everytime they sing, they start a celebration. So here they are The Sound of Friends.

Here Come the Brides

This year's play was a great success with its run of two nights. In the story, a young man Jimmy Took (Ryan Miller) lives with his Aunt Ellen (Susan Miller) and a friend Bill Thompson (Bill Stose). The money for the apartment and furniture comes from Jimmy's Uncle Dan (Steve Salisbury) and had recently increased when Uncle Dan heard that Jimmy got married. He comes to see the new bride, but unfortunately, there isn't one; it was all a misunderstanding. Jimmy asks his girlfriend Madge Burns (Laura Cox) and Mr. Oswald (Ross Goebel) to pose as his wife, but both refuse, leaving only Bill. Jimmy and "Willimena" almost pull it off, but Madge and Mr. Oswald both change their minds. While trying to keep the extra brides away from Uncle Dan and his ward Peggy Westfield (Susanne Rutherford), complications set in. Mrs. Duvalle Smythe (Missy Bowlby) comes, hoping to marry her daughter Bubbles (Andrea Mills) to Uncle Dan, but is frightened off by the crazy Lady MacBeth (Trisha Yowell) and her orderly McDaniel (Norm Floria). In the end it all works out for good. Special thanks to Mrs. Ellen Augustine, director and Robin Hood, student director.

Deutsch And Español

For the students that are not satisfied being fluent in one language, Northridge offers two foreign languages, German, taught by Mr. Frazier, and Spanish, taught by Mr. Woodworth and Mrs. Meuninck. Besides learning the grammar and pronunciation of the languages, the classes include information on the cultures of the countries that speak the language. There are also food days occasionally, and at the end of the year, the classes create dialogues and present plays. The German classes compete in a national contest each year, in which we've had some high scorers, and several Spanish students competed in a contest this year and brought home several awards.

We The Students

Social studies is an important part of education at Northridge. Required for graduation are two major social studies classes, Government and U.S. History. Many students also take Economics. One of the highlights of the social studies curriculum is the simulation game in Mr. Kattau's economics class. "The Game" simulated what business is like in the real world. A new social studies course this year is Honors Government. The class is made up of advanced students who study United States and comparative government. This class will alternate every other year with Honors History. These and many other things show the improvement that is taking place in the social studies department.

The Finer Things

Fine Arts classes are an important teaches Music History and Music part of Northridge students' education. No fine arts credits are required for graduation but students taking fine arts classes leave Northridge with a better understanding of fine culture. Mr. Lindsay teaches both instrumental music classes at NHS. concert band and jazz band. He also

Applied Arts

The course work for Applied Arts is more varied than any other in the school. While Mr. Kauffman's classes this year have been involved in computer technology, metals, and graphic arts, Mr. Zigler works with his students on special woods projects. Mrs. Snider and Mrs. Woodruff work on another type of construction. Mrs. Snider's classes are involved with sewing and interpersonal relations. The foods classes, taught by Mrs. Woodruff, concoct some very good and unique recipes.

Let's Get Physical (Education)

The Northridge Physical Education department has experienced some exciting changes this year. In addition to the required freshman Phys. Ed. classes, and the optional Advanced Phys. Ed. class, Northridge now offers a class in weight training, in our own nearly-new weight room. Mrs. Kaminskis is also teaching our first group of Student Athletic Trainers how to care for athletic related injuries. The classroom part of this department is found in our required Health classes.

Business As Usual

The business department at Northridge is strong, offering classes in Accounting, Keyboarding, Business, Business Law, and Office Procedures. Every year many fine future secretaries and business executives graduate from the program. The class in Word Processing is becoming more important as business depend on computers to store and process information.

Math Magicians

There is a strong math department here at Northridge. Freshmen can take Algebra I or II, sophomores all take Geometry, juniors can take Advanced Math, and seniors can take Calculas. The math department takes interested students to various math contests in the community. We have quite a few people that travel to Calculator Contest (we won two ribbons this year) and others that go to the state-sponsored contest in the spring.

Do all you Advanced students remember this equation that Mr. Von Gunten is kindly pointing out?

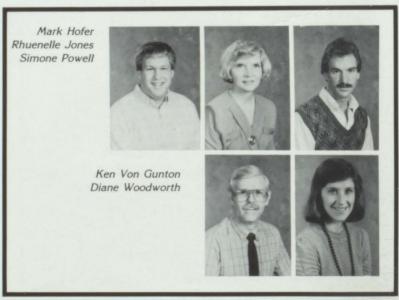

It looks like Cathy Berry, Kristen Simpson, and Debbie Nusbaum are all working at the same time.

Mrs. Jones tutors some seemingly studious sophomores in the math of shapes, Geometry.

Mad Scientists

The science department at Northridge is headed by Mr. Willig. He is the most experienced teacher, having taught for 16 years. Mr. Schultz also has several years experience at this school, while Mr. Noble, Miss Yacuk, and Mrs. Tayler bring fresh ideas, as they have all joined the staff within the last two years. After their freshman year, when all students are required to take Biology, everyone can choose Biology II, Earth and Space, or Physical Science

The Great Communicators

English is one of the most popular departments in the school. That is basically because every student is required to major in it. The seven teachers in the department teach a host of classes ranging from everyone's favorite, English 9, to optional courses such as Creative Writing. There are also many courses offered at the honors level, such as British Literature and Honors English. Of course the basics such as spelling and grammar are emphasized, but the English classes also do a variety of other interesting things. For example, the Stratford Trip is always a good experience for all. Watching television and movies, writing stories, and reading good books are also enjoyable activities for the students.

Administration

Northridge High School has a new administration this year; they have replaced our previous principal, Jim Mc-Cormick, with Jim Lichtenberger. Mr. Lichtenberger comes to us with plenty of experience. He was the principal at Argus H.S. for the last six years, and has also been the vice-principal at Fairfield. Before that he was a basketball coach at several high schools. We also have a fairly new vice-principal. Though he began last year, this is his first yearbook introduction. Though this is his first job as a vice-principal, Dr. Ruch has had fourteen years of experience in the school system, and isn't that all he needs? The three friendly guidance counselors are not new, and we know them or will learn to know them as they quide us through our traumatic teen years.

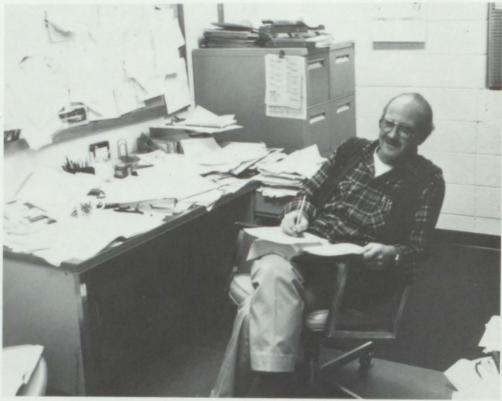

Right: Our friendly principal has a pleasant interview with Rod Davis.

Right: We can see how busy guidance counselors are by the state of tidy Mr. Rhodes' desk.

Secretaries

Who keeps the school running smoothly? You guessed it — the secretaries. Without these people students wouldn't get change, book rental wouldn't be collected, subs wouldn't be recruited, attendance would be a sham, and records would fall into a state of chaos. The administration and guidance counselors would certainly have difficult — if not impossible — tasks without the work of the secretaries.

Above: Mrs. Outman, answering the phone, arranges for those wonderful substitutes.

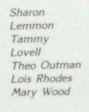

Below: Mrs. Lovell is the lady who makes change for all the purchases at the pop and candy machines.

A Season Of Sports A Room Of Reports

Northridge has long been involved in numerous sports, both male and female. This year the sports program has become even more intense, since Northridge joined the Northern Lakes Conference. The man who coordinates all our games with the community schools is our own Irv Pratt. Dan, our library man, keeps the library running smoothly besides keeping the hooligans in line and sponsoring Ski Club.

Pletcher and Pratt often get together for these little man-to-man talks.

Cook & Custodians

Without the cooks we'd have to brown bag it every day. Students have been know to flock up to the daily menu calendar as they contemplate the gastronomical delights such as pizza boats, tacos, sub. sandwiches and the everpopular fish nuggets. The custodians are the quiet waste engineers without whom the waste baskets would overflow.

Lloyd Bontrager makes a clean sweep of the front lobby.

Above: Edna Godshall, in addition to planning the menu, is also responsible for ordering the food and handling the money.

Special Needs

Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Katz, and Mrs. Simpson spend their respective days (or half-days) tutoring Northridge students who have various learning problems. Though many of us don't often see them at their educational tasks, we do see them in the cafeteria (i.e. Mrs. Grant watching us eat lunch) or in the Materials Center (i.e. Mrs. Simpson furiously typing her I.U.S.B. papers during her prep. hour).

Midnight Fantasy

The 1988 Junior-Senior prom was held on May 14 at Arthur's. The theme of the prom was "Midnight Fantasy." The prom colors were red, black and silver. The success of the prom can be attributed to the sponsors, Mrs. Weeks and Mr. Noble, and the junior class for raising so much money through magazine sales.
